The speakers urged their race to do their duty and to stand by the flag and the Government. Sixty names were enrolled, and the meeting adjourned to meet again to-morrow (Thursday) evening. We are glad to note that our colored citizens are enthused on the war subject.

A mass meeting of the colored citizens of the city was held last Monday evening for the purpose of raising a Company and offering their services in defence of their country in the war with Spain. E. L. Rogers presided and A. B. Johnson acted as Secretary. Patriotic speeches were made by Revs. McLeod, Lindsey, Terrell, Woolridge, Sam. Mitchell, Prof. Gassaway and Harry Taylor. The speakers urged their race to do their duty and to stand by the flag and the Government. Sixty names were enrolled, and the meeting adjourned to meet again to-morrow (Thursday) evening. We are glad to note that our colored citizens are enthused on the war subject.

Last Monday a number of the farmers of Anderson County met in this city and organized an Auxiliary Club of Anderson County by electing the following officers: President, John C. Watkins; Secretary, John B. Leverett; Executive Committee, L. D. Harris, S. N. Pearson, J. E. Wynn, J. P. Glenn and J. C. Johnson. Mr. J. P. Smith, of Clemson College, and Col. R. W. Simpson were present and assisted in the organization. The object of the Club is to arrange for holding the Farmers' Institutes, which are to be conducted by the faculty of Clemson College. The State has been divided into five districts and one of these Clubs will be organized in each County. It is proposed to hold an Institute in each one of these districts this summer.

Last Sunday afternoon, on the farm of Mr. W. Q. Hammond, in Hopewell Township, Geo. Irvine accidentally shot and killed Allen Giles. Both were negro convicts, had been confined in Mr. Hammond's stocks for the past three years, and were trusted. On Sunday afternoon, as is the custom, the convicts started out on a stroll through the woods. As one of the guards was absent, Irvine was given a gun to aid the guards. Just after leaving the stocks Irvine changed his mind, and fired his gun, and in doing so it fired, the ball striking Giles, who was inside the fence pumping water at the well, just below the left shoulder. In such penetrating his lungs and killing him instantly. Coroner Nance held an inquest and the Jury found a verdict in accordance with these facts.

Next Tuesday, 10th inst., is Memorial Day, and it will be appropriately observed in this city. At 10 o'clock a. m. the Memorial Association, the pupils of the various schools and the people generally will visit the Churchyards and Cemetery and decorate the graves of the dead soldiers. At 8:15 o'clock that evening military exercises will be held in the City Hall. An interesting program, consisting of vocal and instrumental music and one or two short addresses, has been arranged for this occasion. An admission of 15 and 25 cents will be charged, and the proceeds will be donated to the monument fund. On Monday night preceding there will be a panoramic presentation of Ben Hur, under the auspices of the Memorial Association, in the City Hall. A small admission fee will be charged to this, for the benefit also of the monument fund.

Meers, Bartram and Willard, the popular professional directors of amateur productions, have been training Anderson talent for the production of "What Shall We Do With Her," a modern farce comedy by Thomas Addison, editor of the Columbia Register. Mr. Addison, South Carolina's gifted play-writer, has written several comedies well-known in the theatrical world, and this last is even superior to his previous productions. Meers, Bartram and Willard have selected the Anderson cast as one of the four in this State to present this sparkling, refined and intricate comedy. Those who attended "Captain Duck" and "The Midnight Fire" know what these genuine, gifted artists can accomplish with Anderson talent. Remember next Friday night, the last attraction of the season. Tickets 50c, 35c and 25c; children, 10c.

The annual reunion of the Confederate Veterans and the annual convention of the Southern Confederate Veterans Association took place in Charleston last week, and it was our privilege to be present as a delegate to the latter organization. It was a most joyful occasion to both the Veterans and the Sons, and it was the largest gathering of delegates since the Camps were organized in this State. Both organizations were in session two days and much business of interest to the Veterans was transacted. South Carolina's grand old hero, Gen. Wade Hampton, attended this sparkling, refined and intricate comedy. Those who attended "Captain Duck" and "The Midnight Fire" know what these genuine, gifted artists can accomplish with Anderson talent. Remember next Friday night, the last attraction of the season. Tickets 50c, 35c and 25c; children, 10c.

The Anderson Volunteers.

Since our trouble with Spain began the people of Anderson have been thoroughly aroused and ready to respond to the first call in defense of our grand old Republic. As we announced last week a Company of brave, patriotic young men has been organized to go to the front, and since Monday they have anxiously awaited orders to move. This Company will be in the quota from the Fifth Regiment, Col. Boyd, of Greenville, came over yesterday and inspected the Company. He was more than pleased. This morning the Company left for Columbia and were joined at Belton by two Companies from Greenville. All the State troops will be mobilized in Columbia.

The Anderson Volunteers, escorted by the P. M. I. Cadets, Confederate Veterans and the members of Camp W. W. Humphreys, Sons of Confederate Veterans, formed in line at the City Hall this morning, and, under the inspiring strains of the Anderson Cornet Band, marched to the depot, being greeted along the streets by the cheers of hundreds of people and the happy smiles of the fair women. An immense crowd gathered at the depot, and Col. J. N. Brown, one of Anderson's honored Veterans, made a patriotic address to the Company, urging the young men to do their duty and always cheerfully obey the commands of the officers. It was a touching scene as the train rolled out, there scarcely being a dry eye among the friends and loved ones of the gallant Volunteers.

The following is the roll of the Company:
